All the London journals publish the correspondence between Adams and Russell in relation to the Alabama claims. The Times says: We carnestly hope the Shenandoah's officers and men were not liberated without communication with Mr. Adams. At present we decline to accept Waddell's statement as true. The Adams and Russell correspondence is chiefly remarkable for the withdrawal by Mr.

Adams of the offer for arbitration. Earl Russell gives at great length facts to prove the British Government did all that could be expected of it.

The London Times says it is reported that Mr. Cushing is instructed not only to cooperate with Mr. Adams in bringing the respective claims of the two Governments to a settlement, but to ascertain the opinions prevailing in England concerning American finances. Such a purpose would strongly attest the pacific disposition of the American Gevern-

The Emperor Napoleon, Empress and Prince Imperial have gone to Compeigne. The Emperor has ordered a great reduction in the army. A thousand soldiers have arrived from Italy. The cholera is still at Naples; none at Rome. The 19th regiment of French troops left for France. The Queen of Spain is indisposed. The Bank of Belgium has raised dis count rates.

In an article written for the Atlantic Monthly by Mr. Sumner, he lays down the following rules as those upon which the Government ought to act in providing for the restoration of the Southern States. First. "No belligerent traitors" who have taken up arms must be admitted to places of trus' or power without due probation or to al. Second. No belligerent traitors" must be allowed to rule "the constant loyalists," and especially those corstant loyalists, the negroes, who have been, according to Mr. Sumner, "our friends and allies." Third. "Belligerent traitors" must be received slowly and cautiously into the sovereignty of citizenship. Fourth. No pardon ought to issue until the suffrage, the applicant binds himself to advocate and sustain negro to recognize and support the national debt, and, if he be a large landholder, to set apart homesteads for all of his freedmen.

The Raleigh Standard of the 27th announces the arrival in that city of Dr. Powell, State Agent at Washington, bearing with him important despatches from the President to Gov. Holden in relation to the future policy of the State, and expressing the hope that the Legislature will promptly adopt the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery.

The ship Marriannas, from Liverpool for Davannah, went ashore during a gale, on the Georgia coast, on the 14th inst., and became a total loss. Her officers and crew were saved. An English bark, was also driven ashore in that vicinity about the same time. .

On Tuesday before last a destsuctive fire broke out at Chattanooga, which resulted in the loss of a block of buildings. It was finally suppressed by the military. At a meeting of the War Democracy of New York on Menday, Mr. Marshall O. Roberts, already selected as the Republican candidate, received the unanimous nomintaion for Mayor

The track of the La Crosse railroad, near Germantown, Wisconsin, was torn up and a bridge burned on Monday night. It is supposed to be the work of farm mortgages who mortgaged their farms along the line of the road to the amount of millions of dollars, which mortgages being forclosed they threaten to destroy the entire road if the company fail to make provision for the payment of the mortseges. A great deal of trouble is apprehended.
